

Thinking of using or upgrading to QuickBooks Enterprise software to have more choices? Here is what I can get for you with a lifetime discount of 20% for 1-10 users and 12.5% for 11-40 users.

 The image shows the packaging for QuickBooks Desktop Enterprise Silver Edition. It features the Intuit QuickBooks logo at the top, followed by 'BUSINESS ACCOUNTING' and 'Desktop Enterprise'. Below that, it says 'SILVER EDITION' and 'Subscription 1 Year Included'. A list of features includes: 'The all-in-one business solution you can make your own', 'Customizable for your industry', 'Thousands of advanced reports', 'Can scale up to 30 users', and '24/7 premium care'. A 'PC Download' button is visible at the bottom right.	QuickBooks Enterprise Silver 24.0 for up to 30 users with custom roles and permission not found in other desktop versions comes with automatic updates and upgrades, a no monthly fee or minimum merchant account (if eligible), Intuit’s Full-Service Plan which includes QuickBooks Priority Circle free U.S. based technical and product support including online training valued at $3,000 (those who are new to the software find this and the 30 videos useful), Open DataBase Connectivity or ODBC which can be used to import or export data using Excel, onsite backup for up to 100 GB, next year’s version in September but I recommend holding off unless you need those new features, Advanced Reporting (see Page 28 in the White Paper or User Guide for a detailed description, optional e-commerce integration, one user license of Field Service Management Software for dispatching and scheduling, and no payroll so you will have to use an outside source but you can order Intuit Online Payroll to record time and prevent buddy punching, and record mileage and export payroll to this version. There is an optional e-Commerce Integration using Webgility for sales channels. If you want to use a Time Tracking program to only track time and export to a third-party system, prevent buddy punching, and track mileage, use this link. One version comes with geofencing. And of course, I service and train your staff in what I sell.
